Blaha Research, United States, 2014. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This technical book describes more detail about the multiverse and travel into it via uniship. The author describes the books contents as follows: In volume 1 of All the Universe! we described details of the exploration of the multiverse - the flat 16-dimensional space that contains a multitude of universes. We described details of a type of starship called a uniship that could escape from our universe and travel to other universes. The discussion was based on an Extended Standard Model of Elementary Particles and an extended Quantum Gravity - both based on the four-dimensional space-time with complex valued coordinates. We also shown that a complex sixteen-dimensional multiverse consisting of universes embedded in a flat space, with each universe satisfying a complex Wheeler-DeWitt equation, leads to an understanding of many features seen in our universe: the origin of the Cosmological Constant, the spatial asymmetry of our universe, and the web of Galaxies recently found in our universe. It also suggested a wormhole connection to a sister universe and the existence of a baryonic field between universes and particles (Blaha (2014a)). The combination of these successes in explaining both the microscopic and cosmic features of our universe, and resolving quantum issues of the Wheeler-DeWitt equation, strongly suggested our theory was in accord with Nature. It gave us a reason to look into the distant future with confidence. In this volume we look particularly at the slingshot mechanism using neutron stars to propel starships into the multiverse. The existence of the multiverse implies every neighborhood of every point in our universe contains points of the multiverse. In particular, these multiverse points are points in the Flatverse - the flat 16-dimensional space between universes. Thus...
