University Press of Mississippi, United States, 1990. Paperback. Condition: New. New.. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Literary journalist, lowly social historian, chronicler of his times, and champion of realism are among the many epithets heaped upon Tom Wolfe by himself and his myriad admirers and critics. In this collection of interviews spanning his richly productive career, Wolfe is seen as a writer imitating no one and riding the crest of each latest wave in contemporary America. For more than a quarter of a century he has been the vivid and varied chronicler of our time—from the Californian car customizers and Ken Kesey's Merry Pranksters of the sixties to the ambition-driven inhabitants of New York City in the eighties. His hybrid of reporting and fiction-writing has received perhaps more applause than any other literary journalism, and his first major work of fiction, Bonfire of the Vanities, rested at the top of the bestseller lists for more than a year. Here is Tom Wolfe talking—about the subjects of his eight books, about the writers he admires, about the discipline of writing, about his politics and his disposition to satire and parody. As he explains his attempt to show the world life in our times, this collection of delightfully witty and informative interviews reveals the insights and the intellect of one of America's brightest and most appealing authors.
